REISS

Welcome to a hotel with history!

When you walk through the doors of Hôtel Reisen — you don't travel back in time. You merely stroll into the memoirs of an eclectic, flamboyant past.

This building's foundation dates back to 1617 — a time when Gustavus Adolphus the Great was the King of Sweden and the world had just invented telescopes and steam turbines.

For centuries, the building has served numerous functions. The name originates from the Dutchman Fredrik Reiss who ran a semi-legal coffeehouse in the 1750s. However — it has also been used as storehouse, drinking den and an epicentre for some of the most prominent poets in European history.

Here, Carl Michael Bellman recited "Drink out thy glass!" while entertaining ladies of the night. Fritiof Nilsson Piraten used room 705 and six half-bottles of Château Margaux to put an end to his writer's block. The Russian-American Nobel Prize winner, Joseph Brodsky, locked himself in a corner room, drafting poems to make cracks in the Soviet Empire.

The list is as long as their nights were.

In Scandinavian terms, the word Reisen means 'the Journey' — which we believe is the perfect, welcoming metaphor for the Hôtel Reisen guest experience:

Rather than repeating what has already happened, use our flamboyant past to create some decadent stories of your own.
